

NEAR EAST UNIVERSITY

DEPARTMENT OF Biomedical Engineering

Level of Qualification

2021-2022

Level of Qualification

Qualifications Framework- European Higher Education Area (QF-EHEA): 1

1. General Information about the Department of Biomedical Engineering

The Department of Biomedical Engineering in Near East University, was founded in 2008. The Department operates under the administration of the Faculty of Engineering and also works in collaboration with other departments within the Faculty.

The aims of the Biomedical Engineering Department are; bringing up experienced and knowledgeable graduates and postgraduates who are equipped with theoretical and practical information related to the discipline, and at the same time, bring up competent individuals who are able to contribute to the developments and research studies in the field. Students who are managers and instructors that are practically oriented in the field, they are qualified people who can effectively serve in this field by making discoveries and even publishing their findings in highly regarded journals.

By providing high quality educational opportunities, the vision of the Department of Biomedical Engineering is to be among the most prestigious department of engineering existing within the geography and contributing to the field of science and engineering. The department is positioned to bring up individuals having the ability to adapt to the changes in the medical and engineering field thereby achieving international success and thus becoming leading engineers.

Biomedical Engineering Department currently offers the following programs:

- BS Degree in Biomedical Engineering
- MS Degree in Biomedical Engineering
- PhD. Degree in Biomedical Engineering

The department has two sections: English and Turkish, thus, the language of instruction is English and Turkish.

